

General Science 1.2 Lab Report

Name: _____ Period: _____ Date: _____

You are to write a report on the lab that was done over the last few days. It is a way to get your thoughts organized around the lab. It is a way for you to convey your knowledge of the material.

There are two formats shown below with brief descriptions. One is of the manner in which reports are given to Mr. Werkheiser for Chemistry and Physics and the other is for Ms. Beneducci for Biology. Look them over and choose which one you are more comfortable to follow to write a report on this lab. Both have been revised to call for the scope of work that is required for this class.

---

Title	title, name, period, date	first page and should only include this info
Abstract	purpose of lab	3 sentences minimum
Introduction	overview, hypothesis	3 sentences minimum
Method	procedure, description of various tests performed	3 sentences minimum
Results	show data in an organized manner	for this lab you can just say "see attached"
Discussion	wrap-up, conclusion	3 sentences minimum

Each part is worth 5 pts.

---

Title	title, name, period, date	first page and should only include this info
Purpose	State what the purpose of this lab is and a hypothesis when applicable	4 sentences minimum
Background	List relevant information regarding the lab	4 sentences minimum
Data	this is where drawings, data tables, graphs and photos are included. Everything must be labeled and titled	for this lab you can just say "see attached"
Conclusion	relate the materials gathered/viewed/ observed/collected in lab to the background information as well as any relevant information from class or previous labs. This is also a summary of what the lab showed.	4 sentences minimum

Each part is worth 6 pts.

---

The report must be typed using a consistent legible size 14 font.

Each part must be clearly labelled and have a double space between parts.

The lab sheets must be attached behind the report.

The report will also be graded on following this format for 5 pts, thus a total of 35 pts.

It is due tomorrow at the middle of class - so that means you'll have some time to finish it tomorrow if need be. There needs to be just one report per group.